Georgia Perimeter College:

"I love working with the folks and I love, to the fact that I'm working in the area of my passion. I'm very lucky to be able to do what I love doing, and to be able to provide a service to the constituents at USG as well as other state agencies, it's a nice thing to be able to do."

Georgia Forestry Commission:

"What I love about my job is that I get to meet people of different kinds and all and I enjoy it because it's a challenge to fix computers, work on computers, to meet the upcoming needs of the Forestry Commission as a whole."

Dept. of Community Affairs:

"I love the culture of the organization, which makes it natural for employees here to volunteer, especially during a disaster. But they make it part of their everyday job and life here at DCA."

Dept. of Labor:

"I love the satisfaction of actually helping people during critical times achieve something that they actually need help on and that I'm being a part of that."

Division of Child Support Services:

"I love it when someone calls in and they need help and they haven't gotten the help they've needed in the past, or they're feeling discouraged. I like being able to give them the information they need, and helping them to find a way to the resources they need to help themselves."

Dept. of Transportation:

"One thing I love most about my job, or the coolest thing about our job, is that we're able to use our resource center to reach out to customers, while at the same time, effectively and efficiently using our resources."

Employees' Retirement System:

"The one thing that I love about my job is that I love to help others. I think that is my calling. I put the customers first, and whatever needs they need, I try to help them as much as possible."
